B. Except as provided in subsection A of this section, east of the Blue Ridge Mountains deer may be hunted from the Saturday prior to the third Monday in November through the first Saturday in January, both dates inclusive, within the incorporated limits of any city or town that allows deer hunting.

C. Except as provided in subsection A of this section, west of the Blue Ridge Mountains deer may be hunted from the Saturday prior to the third Monday in November and for 14 consecutive days following within the incorporated limits of any city or town that allows deer hunting.

Rationale:

Over the past decade or more, the Department has been contacted by numerous concerned citizens and all three county governments about extending the length of the firearms deer season in Amherst, Bedford, and Nelson counties. These three counties currently have the shortest deer firearms season east of the Blue Ridge Mountains. At the same time, Bedford County consistently has had the highest private land deer population index in Virginia. This extension has not been proposed in the past because of concerns related to an overlap it would create between the bear hound hunting season and the deer firearms season. However, few conflicts have occurred elsewhere in Virginia where bear hound hunting and deer firearms seasons overlap.

Deer-vehicle collisions are a major deer management issue in Bedford County. The county is consistently among the top 10 localities for deer collisions in Virginia according to police reports compiled by the Virginia Department of Motor Vehicles. In 2017, the Department was contacted by the Bedford County Sheriff's Department regarding deer vehicle collisions. In the 10-month period between February 15, 2016 and December 16, 2016, Bedford County deputies were involved in 31 deer vehicle collisions at a cost of more than $55,000 to the county. During this time, deer management staff made a deer management presentation to the Bedford County Board of Supervisors. Staff indicated that efforts were being made to reduce the deer population and the Board of Supervisors voiced support for that effort.

Currently, the Department's deer management plan calls for deer population reductions in both Amherst and Bedford counties and stabilization in Nelson County. Only a small portion of Nelson County will be impacted by this proposal; thus, the overall deer population in Nelson County is not expected to decrease with this regulation change. Nelson County is included for consistency.
